

Workshop on site

Rainbow trout at hatchery:

WELFARE RISKS AND PRACTICES OF WELFARE CONCERNS

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

The workshop will provide a clear introduction to trout hatchery systems with the focus on the main welfare risks concerning trout broodstock, larvae, and fry production phases. Participants will receive both scientific foundations and practical guidance to support the official welfare controls in trout farming. Each session will run for 45 minutes, followed by Q&A. Refreshment breaks will offer opportunities for networking and informal discussions.
